

Go Fish! 14 Fish Tacos in San Diego Not to Miss

March 20, 2016

An abundance of taco shops line the streets of coastal and inland San Diego, making it the apparent food staple on this side of the border. While the concept and creation of a taco appears relatively simple, it takes a restaurant that gets the anatomy of a taco to put together something worth talking about. We went fishing for the tastiest fish tacos in San Diego and put together this list of the 14 best fish tacos in San Diego.

Pacific Beach Fish Shop

San Diego became aware of a worthy, new taco shop when owner Doug Sodomowicz accepted an invitation to participate in the 2011 Del Mar Food Show's Best Fish Taco TKO Challenge. The collaboration of Chef Juan Munoz and now Encinitas General Manager, Cody Nielsen, brought to life a fish taco identifiable by the sweet, spicy flavor of their Fish Shop Seasoning and a tropical salsa. The award-winning mahi mahi taco is still a highly ordered item at all three locations and your pooch can even be your lunch date on the dog-friendly patio.
